Checklist: Guidelines for Permission Requests:

Antioch University Dissertations:

2015

RightsLINK

1. First check to see if there is a Rights LINK connection through the publisher’s website. Navigate to the publishers page for the article or book from which the items comes and look for the PERMISSIONS link to form.
2. If your program requires you to place a print copy in the library, your form must state that you need permission for PRINT AND ELECTRONIC formats.
3. There can be no limitations on circulation in the RightsLINK permission.
4. If attained, be sure that you have copied the third party content with NO Adaptations and properly attributed the item in the caption.
5. Copy the RightsLINK license and no. into the Appendix, Permissions.

If there is no RightsLINK

1. Check with your librarian to be sure you have the proper rightsholder. It is usually NOT the author, but rather the publisher.
2. Prepare a request according to checklist below.

If you need to ADAPT [e.g. figure, table, instrument]

1. First obtain the RightsLINK permission to USE the item, if RightsLINK is available.
2. Then, I identify the rightsholder – usually the publisher, not the author.
3. Prepare a copy the 3rd party content [e.g. figure, table, instrument, photo] EXACTLY as it will appear in the dissertation, with proper attribution in the Caption, which should conform to the style [APA, Chicago, etc.]
4. Prepare a request according to checklist below.

Check list for Permission Requests:
